

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS TO ECONOMETRICA

1. The Econometric Society is happy to offer its members the option of submitting to Econometrica either electronically or by mail. Electronic submissions must be sent in PDF format via the Society's website: <http://www.econometricsociety.org/submission.html>. To submit by mail, please send a cover letter and five stapled copies of the manuscript to:

Professor Glenn Ellison
Editor, Econometrica
Dept. of Economics, Massachusetts Institute of Technology
50 Memorial Drive, E52-274B
Cambridge, MA 02142, U.S.A.

Papers must be written in either French or English. Authors submitting on paper may include a PDF version of the paper on a diskette if they wish.

2. There is no charge for submission to Econometrica, but only members of the Econometric Society may submit papers for consideration. In the case of coauthored manuscripts, at least one author must be a member of the Econometric Society. Nonmembers wishing to submit a paper may join the Society immediately via Blackwell Publishing's website. Note that Econometrica rejects a substantial number of submissions without consulting outside referees.

3. It is a condition of publication in Econometrica that copyright of any published article be transferred to the Econometric Society. Submission of a paper will be taken to imply that the author agrees that copyright of the material will be transferred to the Econometric Society if and when the article is accepted for publication, and that the contents of the paper represent original and unpublished work that has not been submitted for publication elsewhere. If the author has submitted the paper elsewhere, the author must indicate the journal in which Econometrica will appear, and the date of publication. If the author has submitted the paper elsewhere, the author must indicate the journal in which Econometrica will appear, and the date of publication.

4. Papers may be accepted with details. There is no charge for submission to Econometrica, but only members of the Econometric Society may submit papers for consideration. In the case of coauthored manuscripts, at least one author must be a member of the Econometric Society. Nonmembers wishing to submit a paper may join the Society immediately via Blackwell Publishing's website. Note that Econometrica rejects a substantial number of submissions without consulting outside referees.

5. Submitted manuscripts must have margins of at least one inch on all sides, and footnotes, references, and appendices must be clearly organized.

6. Additional information "Revised" written by D. Ellison explains editorial policy in this document is the subject of this document. It describes how footnotes should be formatted and clearly organized.

7. Papers should be submitted on the same sheet as the author(s), and a list of authors should be included.

8. If you plan to submit a paper to Econometrica, please send a copy to the Editor, Glenn Ellison, at the address above. Comments on a paper do not constitute a request for publication. Authors will be notified of the decision.

9. Manuscripts on "Economics" written by nonmembers of the Econometric Society should be submitted to the Secretary, Anne Gordon, Dept. of Economics, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL 60208-2600. Announcements of academic conferences, workshops, etc., conducted by other societies or organizations, the availability of fellowships, postdoctorates, etc., and honorary awards for publication in the News Notes section of the journal should be sent to the Editor, Glenn Ellison (address above). Deadlines for all such announcements are the fifteenth day of the fourth month prior to publication, i.e., September 15 for the January issue, November 15 for the March issue, etc. Please refer to the "Manual for Econometrica Authors, Revised" by Drew Fudenberg and Dorothy Hodges, published in the July, 1997 issue for further information on format and content.

10. Econometric Society Secretary, Anne Gordon, Dept. of Economics, Northwestern University, Evanston, IL 60208-2600. Announcements of academic conferences, workshops, etc., conducted by other societies or organizations, the availability of fellowships, postdoctorates, etc., and honorary awards for publication in the News Notes section of the journal should be sent to the Editor, Glenn Ellison (address above). Deadlines for all such announcements are the fifteenth day of the fourth month prior to publication, i.e., September 15 for the January issue, November 15 for the March issue, etc. Please refer to the "Manual for Econometrica Authors, Revised" by Drew Fudenberg and Dorothy Hodges, published in the July, 1997 issue for further information on format and content.

Kfir,

Your wife called.

Ran

15:13