The company, scheduled to move in early 2011, now leases space in a 217,000-square-foot building at 9300 Ward Parkway in Kansas City. It announced in February that it would vacate that facility when its lease expires in early 2011 because the space is being leased to neighboring Burns & McDonnell for expansion of its headquarters.

To attract the facility in Kansas, the state's Commerce Department offered a $15.2 million package of job and investment tax credits, department spokesman Joe Monaco said Tuesday. The department said in a Tuesday release that the move would mean at least $44 million in capital investment.
